Dr. George Bogen maintains a private endodontic practice in Los Angeles, California. Dr. Bogen received his dental degree in 1978 and his certificate in endodontics in 1995, both from USC. He lectures for the postgraduate departments at UCLA, NOVA University, Loma Linda and the VA in Long Beach and is a former Clinical Assistant Professor of Endodontics at USC. He is the past President of the Southern California Academy of Endodontists, past secretary and trustee for the American Association of Endodontists Foundation, currently a member of the Scientific Advisory Board for the Journal of Endodontics and the International Endodontic Journal, past member of the AAE Corporate Relations Committee and a Diplomate of the American Board of Endodontics.

He served as the staff endodontist for the Dental Clinic at the USC/LAC Medical Center in Los Angeles and has served since 1998 as the chief endodontic provider for the Children's Dental Health Clinic at the Long Beach Memorial Children's Hospital. Dr. Bogen has published numerous research articles, textbook chapters and has lectured nationally and internationally. His wife Laureen Roh, also an endodontist, practices in La Habra, California. Dr. Bogen's main hobby is light tackle and deep ocean saltwater sportfishing, and has been a member of the International Game Fish Association for over 25 years. His other interests include conchology and customizing vintage VW vans.
